FOREWORD

The high school which we seniors are soon to leave has served its purpose well. It has enriched our lives, broadened our scopes of learning, and helped mature us into fine upstanding adults. Soon it will be a memory. This book represents a synopsis of our senior year, a culmination of our high school career, and a precedent for the future. Between its covers lies a world quite unfamiliar to all outside our school. It is a world of joy, of achievements, of disappointments, and of sweet memories it is the WORLD OF RANDOLPH HIGH SCHOOL.

World of Randolph High

Dedicated to . . .

MISS MARTHA FOLEY

Miss Foley has devoted much time, energy, and enthusiasm to the students of Randolph High.

She initiated the News Letter to servicemen; this has developed into the Banner which is so active today. She will be long remembered for her services to the Future Teachers Club and the information and advice derived by the students involved.

KENNEDY

What did the youngest president, elected to this office, and the youngest to die in it, have to say particularly about education of American youth?

He exemplified the strength of youthful enthusiasm, yet he sought the wisdom of older leaders. He had faith in the American people and he challenged all of us to apply reason and patriotism to public issues. How have we accepted this challenge? He gave great respect to intellectual excellence, but he also recognized very fully how artistic values enrich human life. He stood firm again hatred and bigotry, but he showed great understanding of the laggards in the march toward human brotherhood. Finally, he demonstrated patriotism and courage in a hard and bitter peace as well as in war; yet he never ceased to strive for a just peace among the nations.

Let it be remembered that a people soundly educated are our late President's most appropriate and enduring memorial, and that through his extreme efforts for an improved world—ours has also been ameliorated.

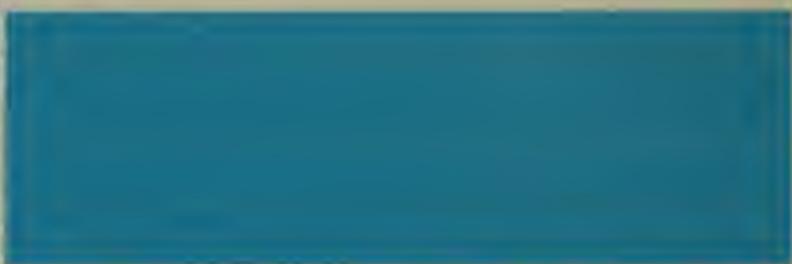

Knowledge—Linda Lerro types diligently after school to complete her term paper.

Phyllis Kritzman and Nancy Marzinkik dissect a frog in biology class.

The quality of academic power is propelled towards excellence by the influence of such functions as the National Honor Society activities, the Science Fair, and the Randy Program.

These award-giving associations have the same purpose as a football rally, and the teams' players will lead our country in the future. If our school is an example of the youth of today, the game of life will be played expertly and successfully.

Knowledge—Bill Saidel making a final check before having his science-fair project judged.

With skilled hands and equally skilled eyes mechanical drawing students finish their project.

Symbolizing the highest honor of academic achievement in our world of knowledge—the National Honor Society. Here, Mr. Quintana, its advisor, swears in the inductees.

of Knowledge . . . Why R.H.S. Exists

Seniors George, Dan, Art, and Buddy make good use of the time before the homeroom bell by gabbing in the corridors.

The "Hoorays" from the gym, the blurting of horns from the band room, the silence of a methodical chess game, and the debating at a club meeting makes one passing through the corridors at 2:20 aware that Randolph High is surely a "World of Fun". The exuberant faces from the bleachers at a basketball game, the shuffling feet at a dance, and the frantic shouts at a football game are definite signs of the enjoyment students receive from being here.

A World of Fun . . . Mixing

Barry Gilman has a good laugh as he watches Harry Knights depart, disgusted from the Pepsi machine, that did not work.

Paul whispers a joke to Santa at the Senior Dance. Ann, Joe, and Leslie overhear it and rock with laughter.

How we love ta eat in our cafeteria! Here Linda McCambly and Linda Brusinski share a good jake.

Business with Pleasure

What was said ta shack Mr. P. and Mrs. T. to make them laak like this?

A memory that is hard to forget—Mr. Powderly patrolling the cafeteria during lunch periods.

A World That is Yours

Elaine Dornlos, our beautiful Oracle queen, is completely overcome with joy at her coronation.

Mr. O'Brien checks his charges to make sure no one was left behind on the U.N. trip.

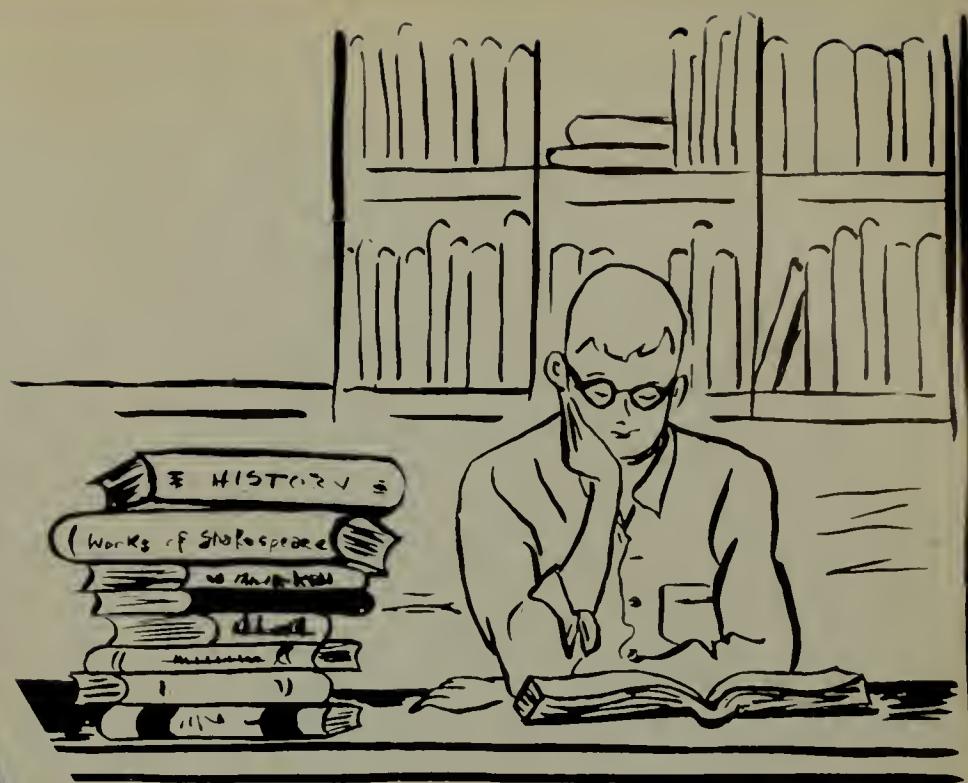

Gail pins Mr. Warren on "Appreciation Day."

"Education in its widest sense includes everything that exerts a formative influence, and causes a young person to be, at a given point, what he is."

A great part of this education is obtained at Randolph High. Your school offers many courses leading to academic successes. It also surrounds you with numerous social and sports activities which bring enjoyment, character growth, and interest development. Everything necessary for successful you is found here in this "World that is Yours."

CLASSES

The basic constituents of our world are the people in it. From the freshman to the senior class, the students, the people who walk the corridors and learn the subject matter, dominate our high school scene.

Directing the Affairs of The Class of '64

The doors of Randolph High are now open and the Class of '64 confidently ushers its members into a world of business, advanced education, and individual endeavors. Sincerely, we thank the officers and their advisor for their efforts in our behalf and for the fine example they have set for us.

From The President of Our Class

Fellow graduates of Randolph High School,

We are about to leave the "World of Randolph High" and venture into new worlds. Graduation terminates our four years of learning and growing here and unlocks new opportunities for us.

The secret of success in life is to be ready for one's opportunity when it comes. Opportunity is rare, and a wise man will never let it go by. We are confident that our school has more than adequately prepared us for this challenging experience.

However, the acceptance of and dealing with responsibility is also essential for success. How often in the past have we procrastinated in our work? How often have we chosen recreation, sports, and idle chatter in preference to homework? Now that we are more learned and mature we must be willing to relegate to second place those activities which clash with the attainment of success; diligent thoughtful work now will be rewarded repeatedly in the future.

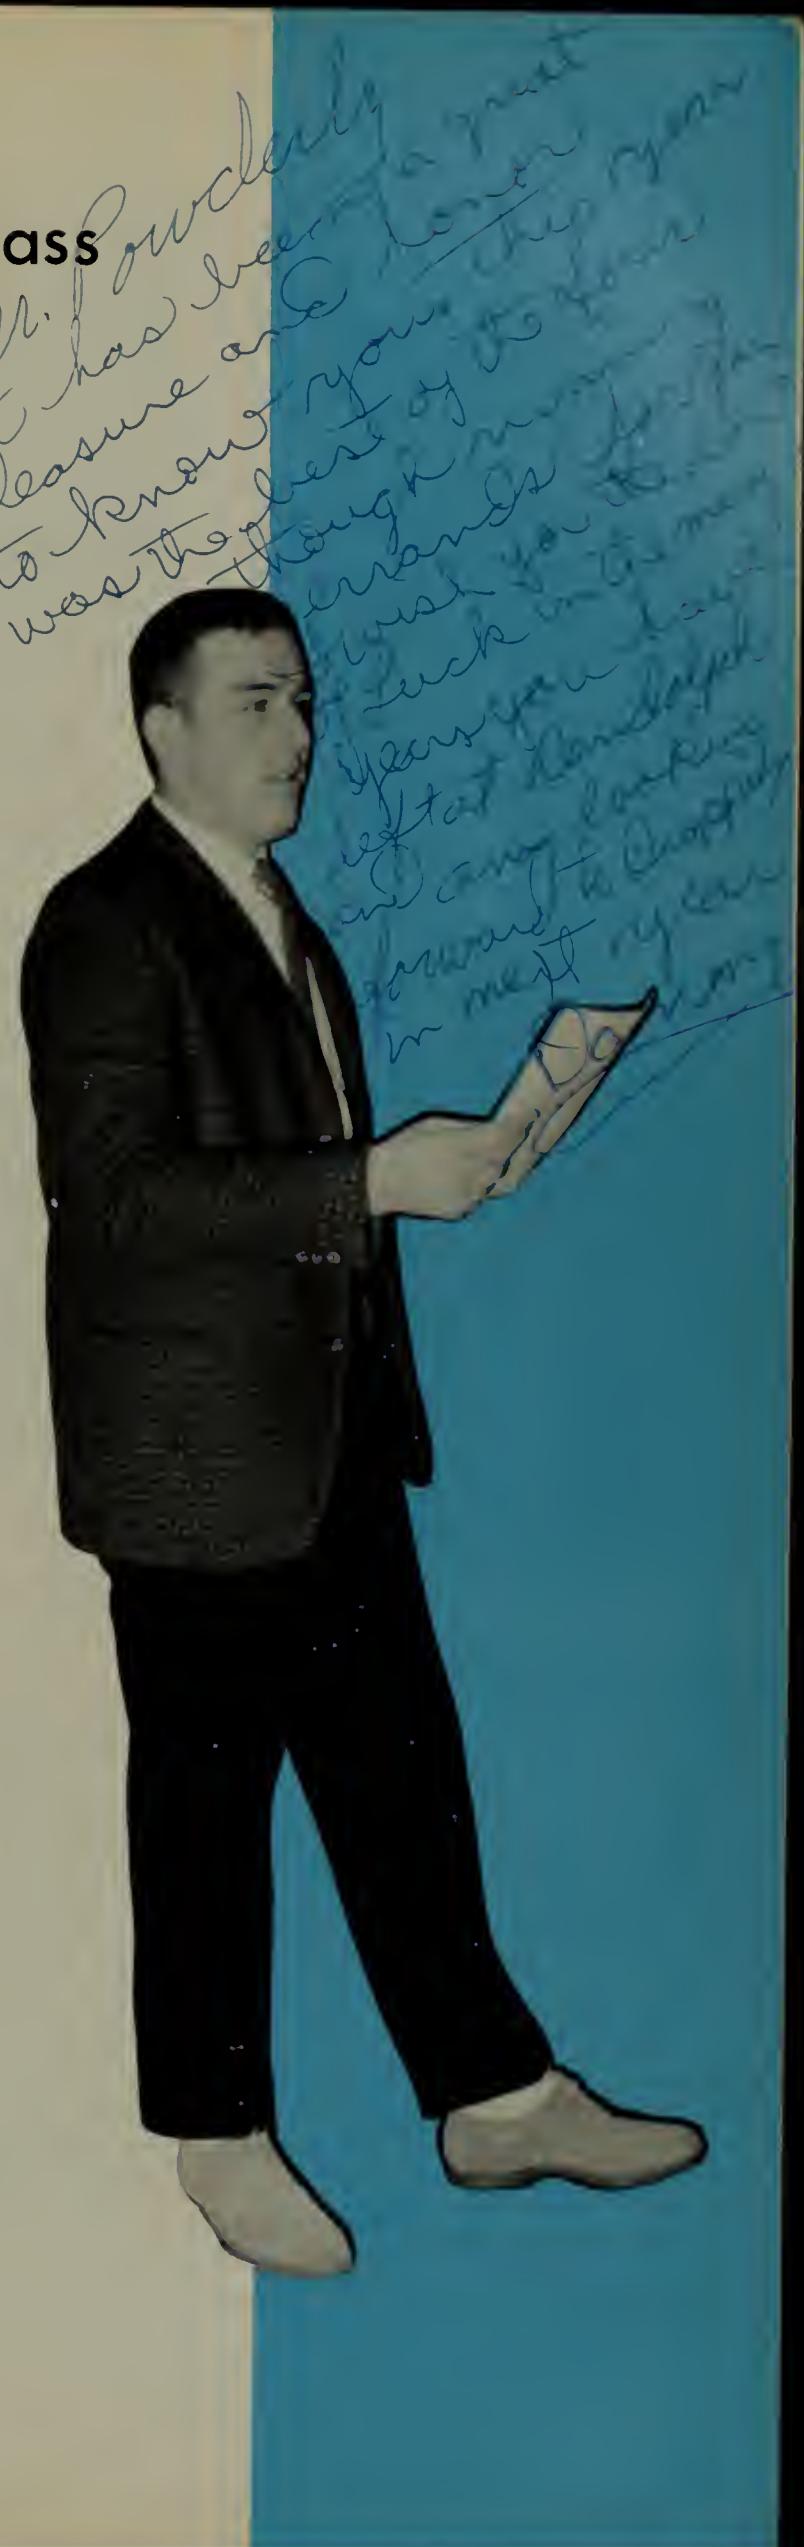

Leaving Randolph High School, we thank the faculty and administration for the skilled and conscientious part in our education. We know that the time for coping with our problems and opportunities has arrived. Now, our course is here for us to chart! But we, the class of '64, should be mindful that, "Ambition is the germ from which all growth of achievement proceeds."

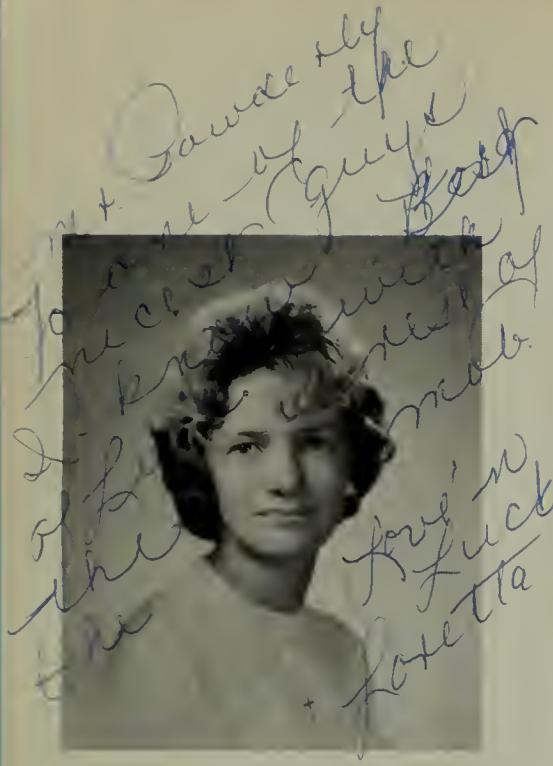

As your president, I extend to you my sincere wishes for a "world" of success.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

L. to R.: Leslie Gallagher, Secretary; Michelle Lyons, Treasurer; Robert Strickland, Vice President; Mackey McLead, President.

As we look back fondly on our years at R.H.S., we think particularly of our junior year. The hard work, the many new friends and acquaintances we made, and the good times we all had together are quite unforgettable. We know you will think that way too.

Next year you will enter a whole new realm as you complete your final year at Randolph. As the date of graduation draws near, you will enjoy the many activities of planning your senior prom, writing your edition of the Oracle, and recalling all the memories that you have collected during your four year stay at R.H.S.

Your senior year is all those dreams and hopes finally fulfilled. We, the class of 1964, extend to you our very best wishes for a happy future.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

The Sophomores are the most fortunate of the classes. You know what to expect and what is expected of you. You have adapted yourselves to a new life and have accepted the added responsibilities. You now decide what you want to do, choose your courses carefully, and aim for the fruitful horizons of life. You are one rung higher on life's ladder. We hope you will patiently work toward your personal goals, realizing the rewards of an earnest effort. The Seniors unite in wishing you every success at R.H.S. . . .

OFFICERS

THE FRESHMAN CLASS

OFFICERS

LEADING THE FRESHMAN CLASS THIS YEAR ARE: J. Mullaney, Sec., P. Konary, V. Pres., G. Willis, Pres., M. Turner, Treas.

First there was elementary, then junior high, and now first year of senior high school. Here you are learning the responsibility and assuming the qualities of leadership which will mold you into responsible, civic-minded Americans.

One of the many important decisions you will make is to aim for a college, business, or vocational career.

Your opportunities here are limitless, and it is up to you to decide to take advantage of them. We, the Graduating Class, know you will meet this challenge, and we sincerely wish your future years at R.H.S. will be happy and rewarding ones . . .

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Hubert F. Gilgan

Friend and advisor through our high school years.

A Message to the Seniors

In the world of Randolph High School, you, the class of 1964 have spent four years preparing for adulthood in today's highly specialized, complex, and competitive outside world.

Here you have gleaned much from teachers and advisors, who, along with parents, have jointly molded your character and instilled in you a strong sense of moral obligation and responsibility. You have gained confidence in yourself and your ability to make careful decisions. You have decided the goals towards which you will strive. The building process has been a long one, but I am assured that you will prove yourselves worthy of and a credit to the endeavors you have chosen.

Many ideas, facts, theories, and principles of several divisions of knowledge have been learned. My cautioning words must be these: whatever ideals and principles you profess to hold must be exemplified in your actions. If you say you believe, you must act accordingly; otherwise, your philosophy and values will be meaningless and unproductive. "Have the strength of your convictions," is a motto which you would be wise to heed.

God grant you peace, happiness, and success in whatever you do; and let your thoughts drift back occasionally to the one place which holds so many pleasant memories . . . the World of Randolph High School.

Advisory Board.

GUIDANCE

The guidance department, directed by Mr. Casey, this year welcomed a new member, Mr. Cossese, who comes to us from Weymouth.

This department, along with testing, counseling, and directing underclassmen, organized meetings for seniors with admissions officials from surrounding college and business schools and with speakers involved in many vocations and employment opportunities. Surely every senior has benefited from our counseling services.

For Better Understanding

Always ready to give a helping hand is Randolph's Asst. Director of Guidance, Miss Brennan. Here she discusses college applications with Ann Lund.

Mr. Casey points out some prospective colleges that George may apply to.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

Clarity, unity, and exactness are the goals set for students by all the English teachers led by Mrs. Foote. Always the backbone of the curriculum, English deepens our insight into life through the works of such authors as Shakespeare, Wordsworth, and Wilder.

For the college-bound, careful attention is given to those skills needed for success in the verbal areas of the college board exams.

Practical business English prepares our students by developing the language abilities to be used in a highly competitive career world.

Miss Walsh explains how periodicals can be useful for references to: Ann, Sandy, Debbie, and Karen.

IN APPRECIATION

MISS PATRICIA GALVIN

It is with deep appreciation and fond memories that we bid "Farewell" to Miss Patricia Galvin, our librarian who retires this year. Among her many duties expertly accomplished were teaching senior English classes, functioning as head of the Social Studies Department, and serving as Oracle advisor for many years.

We will miss you, Miss Galvin, and our appreciation and best wishes will always be with you.

Language Lab Provides Practice . . .

LANGUAGE

La langue, el lingua . . .

Adieu, monolingual travelers and officials! Language will remove barriers to international communication. We will not only understand others better, but will be liked better if we speak the native tongue.

In Randolph, foreign language study is introduced earlier and is extended over an increasing number of years. French, Spanish, and Latin may be studied from grade nine, and Russian from grade ten.

As the student used the laboratory, he is exposed to the sounds and structures of a foreign tongue so that he may gain a fair degree of fluency in understanding and speaking the language of another country.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Class discussions on timely problems help enliven Social Studies teaching.

History was made at a rapid pace this past year and reached a crucial climax with the assassination of President Kennedy. Under the guidance of Mr. O'Brien, head of the department, students developed a better insight into many critical situations. Also, weekly assignments in current events and a trip to the United Nations in the fall helped students become well informed, interested, and responsible citizens.

Student And Administrative Problems

OFFICERS

Leading the Student Council this year are Barbara Taffalani; Maureen McGrary, President, Billy Saidel, Vice-President, Carla Nelsan, Treasurer.

Symbolizing leadership and responsibility is Randolph High School's own Student Council. As sponsor of such fine programs as Student Teacher For a Day, the Christmas Homeroom Decoration program, and Teacher of the Year award, the Council has brought honor and recognition to the members of the club and to the school. The purpose of the organization is to create better relationships among the student body, faculty, and administration. With the great understanding and help of the club's advisor, Mr. Santry, the Student Council has proven itself a worthy and valuable asset to the school.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

OFFICERS

The officers of the Honor Society meet to discuss affairs with the President, Donna McNeil. They are: Jim Franklin, Bill Saidel, and Steve Silverstein (executive board), Ken Ekman (Treasurer) Dave Reed (Vice-President), and Wally Hesford (Secretary).

First row L. to R.—F. Azzariti, M. Fox, S. Silverstein, K. Ekman, W. Hesford, D. Reed, Donna McNeil (Pres.), Mr. Quintana (Advisor). Second row—B. Gilman, D. Hyman, V. Murphy, L. Parkin, L. Parkin, L. Hoeg, C.

Hall, N. Fine, J. Franklin. Third row—J. Pink, M. Drury, N. Wells, B. Levitan, W. East, S. Kelly, C. Dibbern, W. Saidel, L. Deane.

Under the capable direction of the new advisor, Mr. Quintana, the National Honor Society gives recognition to its forty-seven members. The four ideals of the society are:

Scholarship—the sum of a strong mind and sacrifice.

Leadership — displaying one's talents to guide others.

Character—the noblest contribution which any person can make for the benefit of posterity.

Service—giving one's self to help others.

In addition to the four officers led by the president, Donna McNeil, the advisory committee helps the director choose applicants for admission. Under the new standards for qualification, only the very top students are admitted.

The Joseph Daly Chapter of the National Honor Society is truly an admirable organization of Randolph High School.

Mr. Murroy Lewis receiver of last year's Honorary Rondy, is accompanied off the stage by master of ceremonies, Mr. Sobo.

With a burst of "Oh!'"s, and "Eee!'"s, the winners of the coveted gold statuette receive their awards. The background is an anxious buzz of the audience combined with the lively rhythm of the school band. Both students and teachers are popping with excitement. To the student with the highest academic record in each subject, this day is a dream come true. Top performance in a particular subject-this is the accomplishment honored by THE RANDY.

Each year a Randy is given to an outstanding citizen, a person outside our school. This surprised recipient in '63 was Mr. Murry Lewis, former member of the School Committee, Building Committee, secretary and past president of the Eastern College Football Officials, Commissioner of Football for forty schools, and third vice-president of the Gridiron Club of Boston.

RANDY . . .

Nancy Wells accepts her Randy from Mr. Saba. Key Club boys brought the statuettes on stage.

KEY CLUB

President Harry Knights gives the rules and regulations to the Key Club.

Fostering Responsibility and Pride in Randolph High

The members of the Key Club are always ready to lend a helping hand. Every year the Student Council elects a number of students into the club on the basis of the work they have done. The services of the club range from volunteer work at hospitals to keeping the school informed of up-coming events. The Key Club is a true example of how students can accept various responsibilities, work together, and render aids that are beneficial to each and every one of us.

To the student body,

The Oracle, as almost everyone knows, is the school year book. It is more, however, than just a book of pictures and autographs. It symbolizes you, your school activities, and plans for the future. For the Seniors, the Oracle represents the past memories which will last forever through the pages of their yearbook. The Oracle for the underclassmen presents a different experience. It serves as a preview of the years to come, following your activities and adventures until you, too, become a senior.

BLUE AND WHITE BANNER

The Blue and White Banner, news-carrier of the school, has once again successfully completed a harrowing year of dead lines, reports, and meetings. Although it is a folio of only four pages, it clearly maps out the busy life of Randolph High, and, at the same time, exemplifies hard work, talent, and cooperation. Despite this work, fun becomes the headlines at the annual Banner Dance, the Fashion Show, and the New York trip to the Columbia Press Conference.

Voice Of Randolph High's Students

Mrs. Noblin, newspaper advisor, reviews the latest edition of the Banner, with her Co-Editors-in-Chief, Donna MacNeil and Walter Hesford.

Brian Sullivan sells our version of the "New York Times" to Janet Flemming.

R.H.S. BAND

The music department is composed of many talented groups, the largest being the band, directed by Mr. Lacey and his assistant, Mr. Raposa. It plays its way into many hearts, stirring the spirit of all.

Band entertainment is provided at football games, assemblies, concerts and parades. Yearly events of competition and demonstration are:

S. E. M. S. B. A.

District Festival

B. U. Game

South Eastern Mass. Music Festival

Surely the faculty and student body of R. H. S. will agree that our band is worthy of great praise and is second to none.

R.H.S. DANCE BAND

Members of the Dance Band practice for the Concert after school hours. Their efforts have paid off in "swinging" entertainment at R.H.S. dances throughout the year.

Mr. Lacey directs the band during the Christmas assembly rehearsal.

Festivals

Melodious voices and rhythmic songs are the artistic characteristics of the Randolph High School Chorus. These devoted and talented members spend many hours rehearsing for assemblies, concerts, shows, and the music festival. Individual chorus members also participate in S.E.M.S.B.A., District, and All-State festivals.

Much of the success of the chorus is accredited to its capable and industrious director, Mr. Lacey, who devotes many extra hours to perfecting the school's chorus. Tribute goes to these hard-working students who offer much enjoyment to their school.

Richard as Nanki-Poo and Barbara as Yum-Yum carry the quiet reserve of the oriental.

Singing Japanese ladies congregate on the stage.

Persistent Practice "Pays Off"

The drill team and band, Randolph's half-time entertainers, march out on the gridiron during one of their many practice sessions.

DRILL TEAM

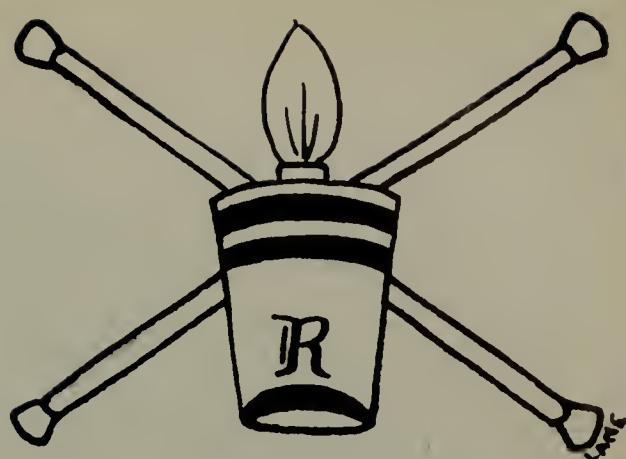

DRILL TEAM MEMBERS: D. McPartland, K. Patterson, E. Doolan, D. Drauss, B. Peters, D. Higgins, L. Green, A. Santogoit, K. Hager, C. Tantilla, A. McLeod, D. Burton, E. McGrory, J. Pooler, L. Chumis, D. In Precision Personified

Under the supervision of Mr. Lacey, the Drill Team waits hopefully for another eventful year. The team is comprised of girls who are interested in music as well as having the skill and initiative to learn new routines.

The Drill Team performs at football games, concerts, parades, and many more events.

These girls spend many long and tiring hours perfecting many dances. In spite of all the hard work, the members of the Drill Team are happy to be a part of this impressive group and are proud of their performances.

TWIRLERS

Long hours of practice precede the dazzling routines which the twirlers put on during the year. During the football season, these high-stepping and high-spirited girls practice with the Drill Team for many tedious hours, but their efforts are not in vain. The half-time shows are always original, precise, and spectacular. Throughout the year, the twirlers also participate in concerts and state-wide competition.

R.H.S. TWIRLERS: M. Vennik, J. Elama, L. Murphy, N. Beal, K. Sullivan, S. Gaynor, L. Gallagher, K. Michaelson, J. Fleming, D. Wadan. In Back, the Head Twirlers: Leah Michaels and Sandra Keddy.

. . . Learning the Art of Learning

Miss Foley, Advisor of F. T. C., talks over future plans with the officers of the Future Teachers Club.

Preparing students for the teaching profession is the main function of the Future Teachers Club. Through panel discussions, reports, and interesting talks, students learn about the many challenging and rewarding aspects of teaching as a career. Many cultural opportunities are offered to the club's members. Field trips to museums, colleges, and other places of interest are made yearly. On the social side, a dance and an annual banquet or outing are usually on the club's agenda.

FUTURE NURSES CLUB . . .

Horry enjoys having his temperature taken by F.N.C. officers Corol O'Brien and Dottie Dolon.

The girls of Randolph High who wish to enter the nursing profession are able to join Randolph High School's Future Nurses Club. Under the trained guidance of our school nurse, Mrs. Heath, the girls have the opportunity of becoming better acquainted with the duties of this highly-skilled profession. These girls may gain practical experience by doing volunteer work in different hospitals.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

Randolph's Future Homemakers of America were again very active this year. Lorraine Gallant, this year's president, led the club through many activities. F. H. A. members learn such womanly arts as cooking, sewing, and other home duties. Under the supervision of Mrs. Stribley these girls learn the duties and skills necessary to be a good housewife. When they leave Randolph High, the F. H. A. girls are ready and experienced to perform as homemakers.

Sandee is putting the finishing touches on her blouse.

DRAMATICS CLUB

"Curtain going up!" is a familiar expression known by all in the Dramatics Club. Students interested in the mechanics of the theatre are given several opportunities to display their dramatic and technical skills by participating in various activities. The main goal of the club is to present to the public at least one play each year. Serving as both director and advisor for the club is Mr. Vellante. Under his fine direction and supervision, club members, this year, rehearsed scenes, memorized lines, erected stage setting, and designed costumes for "The Curious Savage," the 1964 production.

OFFICERS

The officers of the Dramatics Club sit with their advisor, smiling Mr. Vellante. Surrounding President Lorraine Gallant are Dick Small, Jim Franklin, Anita Silverstein and Peggy Gallagher.

The Oceanography Club offers a pastime of limitless interest in life in the "briny-deep." Under the guidance of Mr. Bourgeois, the club participates in many activities, such as, field trips and individual research.

Students who like to challenge others at bridge or those who want to learn about the fascinating game of "trumps" and "tricks" belong to the Bridge and Whist club. With Mr. Pina as advisor, the club has many exciting and enjoyable meetings.

With the advice of Mr. Crimmins, the members of the Chess Club play many brain-teasing games as they learn the tactics and strategy. Their keen challenging is rewarded by being able to "checkmate" Mr. Crimmins.

The Science Club encourages students to take an enthusiastic interest in all branches of science. Under the guidance of Mr. Bourgeois the members participate in individual research, field trips, and group projects.

Those students interested in forestry and wildlife formed the Conservation Club with Mr. Garrett as advisor. The club, headed by Thomas Verzone, is divided into several departments, such as; geology, forestry, and wildlife management, according to the interests of its members. One project done by the club was a rough survey of the new outdoor laboratory for the advanced Biology class.

Spunk and Spirit . . . Keynote of "The Devils"

The 1963 Randolph High School football team was not the most successful from a standpoint of win and lose record (1-8), but it most assuredly succeeded in other ways which are more important. The team had a sprinkling of veterans but was mostly comprised of underclassmen who had never played varsity football. This, of course, hindered the early-season progress of the team. The many thrills that our team members provided and the courage they showed week after week in the face of strong odds will serve them well in years to come. We, at Randolph, are proud of our 1963 football team; and because of its sacrifices on the field, the 1964 season looms very bright indeed.

BASKETBALL

Despite being the youngest team in the Hockomock League, the R.H.S. basketball squad proved its ability this season by defeating such highly-rated league contenders as Foxboro and Mansfield. Scoring averaged over sixty points per game, and if two one-point overtime losses, early in the season, were reversed, the Blue Devils would have closed the season with a winning record. New coach Winston Fairfield struck with his young team all the way, and it rewarded him with an alert and hustling brand of basketball. Senior Bobby Charron was the team's play-maker, while juniors Bob Govan and John Noblin provided the scoring punch. Govan averaged twenty points a ballgame while Noblin was counted on for fifteen. Juniors Ray Disimone and Bob Strickland not only did most of the rebounding, but also averaged around ten points a game. With the last four starters returning next year, along with reserves Tim Burns, Paul Brooks, Bill McMenimon, Dennis Konary, and Steve Downing, R.H.S. basketball fans can look forward to many hoopster thrills in 1964-1965.

Randolph last its Hackamack League title, which it held for three consecutive years, and finished the 1963 season with a record of 11-6. However, Coach O'Brien can be proud of the pitching he received from junior, Tom Turner. The spectacular event of last year was Zack's feat over Oliver Ames when he pitched fourteen consecutive innings. Mike Fleming, by many hours of hard work, became one of the most outstanding first basemen in R.H.S. history.

Returning veterans, Mike Cartwright, Bob Charron, Frank Maran, Bill Fistari, Russell Callahan, and Tam Turner, form the muscles of the 1964 team.

CROSS COUNTRY

The R. H. S. Blue Devils catapulted to an undefeated season last year under the able coaching of Mr. Pistone. Long, lung-bursting hours of work, a close cooperation between team members and the guiding feet of Coach Pistone led the team to unprecedented heights.

TRACK

The big moments of the year were John Concannon's last minute dash to win the state two-mile championship and the whipping given Stoughton by which we captured the league title. Let's hope it's done again this year!

Crossing the finish line of Bastan Gorden, Paul McGeawan takes first place in the Class C mile run.

Mr. Pistone

by John Concannon

The success of Randolph's illustrious track teams can be directly attributed to its hard-working coach John Piston.

Mr. Pistone first gained renown at Tufts University for his talents as a shortstop on the championship baseball team and as an excellent middle distance runner on the track team.

Upon graduating from Tufts in 1958 with a Bachelor of Science Degree in History, he was immediately appointed to a teaching and coaching position at Randolph High. Since his graduation, he has continued his studies and he now holds a Master's Degree in Education.

His first experience in coaching at Randolph was with the freshman basketball team which went undefeated. As a newly appointed track coach, he was to experience even greater success. From the beginning his track teams were unbeatable in all phases of the sport.

This year's team, which Mr. Pistone considers his "best ever" has won every possible honor. The team streaked through the cross-country season, taking home the winners trophy in the Catholic Memorial Invitational, South Shore Principals', South Shore Championship, Hockomock League Championship, and State Class C Title. Continuing in the indoor season, the team is undefeated in dual meets, including a victory over favored Catholic Memorial, and has just recently won the Class C Indoor Title.

Jim Hunter and John Concannon round a corner at the Garden. John, though having been tripped and trampled on, won the event, and Jim just missed placing.

The reason R.H.S. has such a great track team—coach Pistone taking the boys through a practice session up and down Memorial Parkway.

GIRLS' SPORTS

GIRL'S SPORTS

The interest in competitive athletics is not limited to the boys as Miss Skeels and many sports-minded girls have shown. This year the girls have partaken in basketball games and bowling tournaments; in the spring they will compete in softball games. Throughout the year, various clinics are held with the hope of introducing new techniques in girls' sports. In the years to come, girls can look forward to a tennis team and competitive archery tournaments.

Standing, l to r, J. Adams, J. O'Laughlin, C. Handrahan, M. Walsh, L. Floyd. Kneeling, l to r, T. Tempesta, P. Swanson, S. Kelly.

J.V. BASEBALL

J. V. SPORTS

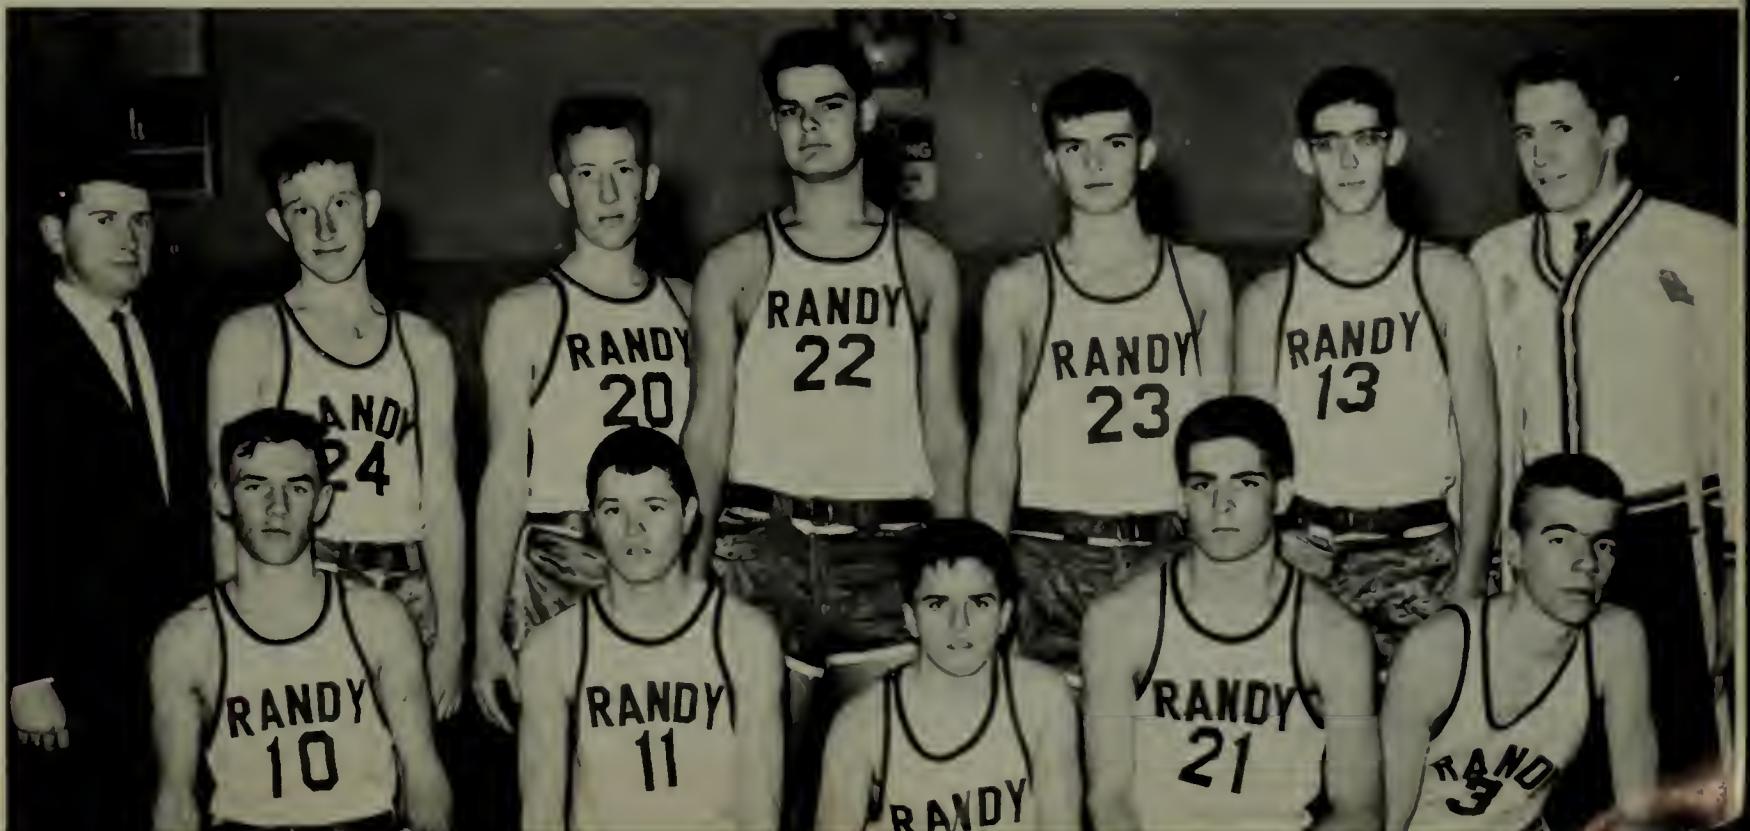

Although they do not receive the same publicity as the varsity sports, the Jay Vee activities can be applauded for producing many capable and successful athletes, especially in baseball and basketball. Coaches Kondracki and Power have consistently turned out spirited and winning teams.

Artie Zack sinks a basket and racks up two more points for Randolph.

J. V. BASKETBALL

Garnettmen Show Steady Progress

TENNIS TEAM

Cooch, Mr. Garnett. His diligence and persistence has paid off the past few years.

In spite of a late start and a lack of veterans the tennis team has shown the spirit of R.H.S. by its good sportsmanship in courageous battles against superior teams.

With the example set by Captain Richard Goldman, the team kept their spirit up and made great progress under the capable direction of Mr. Wm. Garnett.

Based on the performances of the new men, M. Bornstein, M. Goldberg, S. Dlatt, S. Leibovitz, S. Cadoff, P. Merrill, and co-captains S. Burwell, and B. Saidel, hopes are high for a winning team next year.

Stanley Burwell, captain of this year's hustling Tennis Team, stretches high while serving in a practice session.

GOLF TEAM

Our hackers, slicers, and dubbers: Top row, l. to r.: Mr. Sargeant, M. Fox, R. Wilson, R. Gass, L. Parkin. Kneeling: D. McKenzie, J. Sawczuk, A. Iskra.

Bab Gass tees off on the 9th hole at Pine Valley.

GOLF

"Blaw, Lean, blaw!" Bab Gass and Coach Sargent urge Lean Parkin onward ta sinkin' his "hole in one."

The Randolph High School golf team enjoyed a winning season primarily due to the expert coaching of Mr. Paul Sargeant and to the fine leadership of Captain John Sawczuk. The outstanding performance of the first team, Leon Parkin, the winner of the Raymond McGerrigle Golf Plaque, and Robert Gass, was also a contributing factor to the team's success. The season ended with a record of four-three which compares favorably with the twenty-nine points scored against the Blue Devil golfers. The golf team, now predominately seniors, looks forward to greater success under the guidance of Captain Matthew Fox.

ADVERTISEMENTS

The Oracle staff acknowledges with gratitude the generous individual contributions of Randolph
merchants, profes-sionalmen, restauranteurs, and school organizations to the success of this year's edition.

WITHOUT BREAKING STRIDE,

why not graduate from high school to the Telephone Company? You'll love the friendly young people who'll work with you, and the many social activities that make your work so pleasant and rewarding.

OPPORTUNITY IS EXCELLENT

and your ability will be recognized. Your starting salary should climb with regular increases. And, of course, Company benefits, security, and regular advancement are well-known reasons why working for the Telephone Company is so attractive to graduates.

TELEPHONE JOBS ARE IMPORTANT, vital to the effective communications of the community, the nation, and the world. When you take your place as a respected member of the telephone community, we'll train you, on full salary, even without previous job experience.

Why not come and see our employment interviewer soon . . . before you graduate? Ask your Guidance Counselor to tell you when and where to apply.

NEW ENGLAND  TELEPHONE

Dear Mr. Powderly,
Although I have another year to speak of
I wish you would like to take this opportunity to tell you what's fine,
~~it~~ sometimes has been a little harsh,
personally it has been a little harsh, work under your guidance, yet any one member of R. H. S. including myself, — have had and still have had luck and been happy

Mr. Powderly,
A wonderful looking man, forward
next year, on pleasure and I know you will remember you well, "no hope have."

Joe, Barbara Food '65
B. Class of

Mr. & Mrs. F. Jackson
I hope that you remember the good jokes we always told together & I hope you always keep healthy and life as happy & interesting as nature is.

Mr. Powderly,
I'm glad we moved to Randolph
because of we didn't walk & have met you

Mr. Warding
Best of luck
To a real great genius though we have had our differences
a real cool principle
the best
Love
Alice
Hammond

Sincerely
Alice
